

Petri Exchange Company Profile

Overview

Petri Exchange is an Australian biotechnology corporate advisory specialist founded in 2016. Combining expertise in translational research, finance and accounting, Petri Exchange's vision is to connect both private and public investors with early-stage, private investment vehicles opportunities via an online exchange.

We connect investors with commercial opportunities from the best medical research and support both the researcher and investor to navigate the complexities of research commercialisation.

Petri Exchange ensures medical research commercialisation opportunities are investor-ready, and provides supporting services throughout the investment lifecycle.
